Mass-Meeting To-Night.

The busiest place in town to-day is the National Headquarters of the Natvation

CAPT. HAPPY BILLY AND SPECIAL POWLER.

The big five-story building fairly swarms with officers and privates who have come from the four quarters of the country to

The headquarters was the scene of busy had a hearty swing to it, and the refrain was caught up by those within hearing until the big building re-schoed with the music which has so often aroused religious enthusiasm in the breasts of the most hardened sinners.

ENSIGN EIGHT MARSHALL

In Swins costume. (in Swiss cortume.)

The notables began to flock to the headquarters early in the day.

First and foremost there was Joe the Turk, probably the most conspicuous as an example of the sensational exhorter. Capt. Happy milly and Special Fowler, from Texas, came in shortly after.

Both were in cowboy costume and will attract great strention, not only by their

The tickets will be 45 cents cach, and the official programme states that officers as well as soldiers will be expected to pay at cannot talk enough about the change they see in both the banquet this afternoon and the one to be held at the same hour and place to-merow.

The big parade, which will start to-night from the Lonox Lyceum at 7.15 c. s., will un-doubtedly bring out a great crowd or citi-zens who will gaze with interest upon these reas who will gaze with interest upon these strange people who, wille, meningly so happy, undergo numberless hardships and humiliations for the sake of the religion they have undertaken to apread.

A feature of the inseting in Carpegie Hail to-night will be the playing of the combined salvation army bands. There will be 200 brass instruments, besides a corps of banjoists tambourine manipulators and players on special instruments, 300 strong.

The meeting will be closed with the singing of Hame, he are those, by the luterantional Group, made up of delegates from foreign sountries.
